

A Blog As Unto the Lord

Wow....where did the title for this communication come from? It just came! But, I must admit that my devotional time presently includes Billy Graham and "My Utmost for His Highest", a collection of sermons and teachings of Oswald Chambers, compiled by his wife, and thank God that she did. So, I usually wake up inspired, but by the time my wife and I are done with our reading and study, I am charged.

Why start a blog, especially with one entitled like this? Purely and simply and totally up front, this is meant to encourage you to get involved with this ministry and for you personally to give away pocket crosses to others, wherever you find them. And, if you are reading this in a country at some distance from the USA, this desire for your involvement includes you. We have crosses in many parts of the world, but we are really just beginning this ministry. It is all about encouraging Christians everywhere in their daily walk with the Lord, and, by the power of the Holy Spirit, touching others who are unaware of what God has done for them through the cross. The "Power" and the LOVE that, by God's plan, comes through the cross is beyond our human understanding, but it is as real as anything that you can touch. As Jesus encouraged us, "Pick up your cross daily and follow me". The Pocket Cross adds a tangible response to this Spiritual request of Jesus. I have personally experienced this to such an extent that I wear a "Cross Necklace" all of my waking hours, every day. Does it make a statement about where my heart and my spirit are.....clearly!

How long will this blog normally be and what will the content normally be? The subject matter will be pretty obvious, but focusing in, it will be stories about others, either how they have been impacted by the cross or how they are impacting others by the gifting of crosses. The length will be totally guided by the Spirit. It could be a single paragraph, or it may be pages long. If it runs pages long, then there is a story that God wants revealed right now, and I pray that I do not get in the way of that. If you are drawn here weekly, there is a reason and that is totally between you and the Creator.

To give you a taste of what some of the content might be, there are two people I would like to highlight in this initial blog. Let's say their names are Brother Charles and Sister JJ. There are decades of difference in their ages, but the origin of their souls are the very same.. They are both involved in the ministry and they both have given away hundreds of crosses since our beginning. Brother Charles, who is ninety three and one-half years old, has given away well over one thousand. In their presence, my soul almost burst with LOVE, because there is so much "LOVE present"! I pray that you have or will experience this and I ask it all in Jesus Holy Name!
